Autumn
2018

The year 2018 marks the fifth anniversary of John Murray Press. The JMP team has achieved a great deal in this short time together – not least John Murray being named ‘Imprint of the Year’ at the British Book Awards and Hodder Faith winning ‘Christian Publisher of the Year’ at the CRT Awards. But 2018 also marks a much more significant birthday: the 250th anniversary of John Murray (Publishers) itself. The company, which was founded in 1768 and had its first office at No. 32 Fleet Street – just a stone’s throw away from our current home at Carmelite House – has had a remarkable impact on British publishing.

This year we will celebrate our heritage in a number of ways: with a stylish new edition of Kenneth Clark’s landmark book Civilisation (March 2018); a collection of letters from the company’s most famous authors – Jane Austen, Lord Byron, Charles Darwin and many more – in the delightful Dear Mr Murray (October 2018); and, with an eye to the future, a lucrative anniversary prize to find a brilliant new non-fiction writer.

We will announce further details of all these projects as the year unfolds, but in the meantime we are proud to launch our list for July to December 2018, which contains many wonderful books from across the division.

Happy reading!

THIS IS WHAT HAPPENED

Mick Herron

A shocking, twisted novel of psychological suspense from CWA Gold and Steel Dagger winner Mick Herron.

Twenty-six-year-old Maggie Barnes is someone you would never look at twice. Living alone in a sublet in London, with no family but an estranged sister, no boyfriend, and not much in the way of friends, Maggie is just the kind of person who could vanish without anyone taking notice.

Or just the kind of person MI5 needs to thwart an international plot that puts all of Britain at risk.

Now one young woman has the chance to be a hero – if she can think quickly enough to stay alive.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Mick Herron is an award-winning novelist and author of the Jackson Lamb series. His work has won the CWA Gold Dagger for Best Crime Novel, the CWA Steel Dagger for Best Thriller, and the Ellery Queen Readers Award, and has been nominated for the Macavity, Barry, Shamus and Theakstons Novel of the Year Awards.

THE ESCAPE ARTISTS

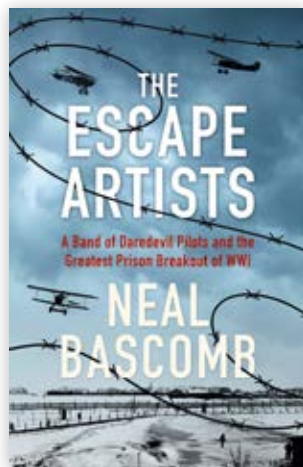

A Band of Daredevil Pilots and the Greatest Breakout of WWI

Neal Bascomb

How three WWI pilots held in Germany's most infamous POW prison made their extraordinary breakout.

1918. When three captured Royal Flying Corps pilots arrived at the Germans' highest-security prison complex their situation had seemed dire. Ruled by the iron fist of Camp Commandant Carl Niemayer, prisoners were known to be shot and beaten to death. Not least the attempted escapees.

Nevertheless, in the following months, with an improvised oxygen piping system, stolen disguises and astonishing courage, a handful of the Kaiser's 2.3 million prisoners would succeed in making their way to neutral Holland and eventually back to Britain – for a private audience at Windsor Palace. The biggest and most unlikely escape of the Great War, their derring-do became military legend.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Neal Bascomb is the author of nine award-winning international bestselling adult books, including most recently the New York Times bestseller on the sabotage of the German atomic bomb program The Winter Fortress. He also chronicled the search for a Nazi war criminal in Hunting Eichmann and the story of Roger Bannister's four-minute-mile in The Perfect Mile. His work has been translated in over 18 countries.

How a Sister's Testimony Brought Down a Criminal Mastermind

Astrid Holleeder

The extraordinary story of the sister – and nemesis – of one of the most violent and powerful criminals in Europe.

Wim Holleeder is one of the most feared criminals in contemporary history. Having terrorized, extorted and threatened those around him for thirty years, his latest conviction is becoming the trial of the century. Charged for his involvement in multiple assassinations, including that of his former partner and brother-in-law, Wim is finally being put on trial for murder, all due to the shocking and incriminating testimony of his own sister, Astrid.

In this stunning memoir, Astrid finally reveals decades of familial manipulation, fear and the thrilling experience working as a double cross, preserving enough trust to attain the information that would convict her brother for life.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Astrid Holleeder is a Dutch lawyer and writer. She is the sister of criminal Willem Holleeder and was, together with her older sister and a former friend of Willem, a witness to his prosecution. Her memoir Judas sold 80,000 copies on the first day of publication. The book became the best-selling book in the Netherlands in 2016. Her second book, Diary of a Witness, also became an instant bestseller.

Author lives in Holland.

COUNTRY

Michael Hughes

Northern Ireland, 1996.

After twenty-five years of bitter conflict, the IRA and the British have agreed an uneasy ceasefire, as a first step towards lasting peace. But if decades of savage violence are leading only to smiles and handshakes, those on the ground will start to question what exactly they have been fighting for.

Inspired by the oldest war story of them all, this powerful new Irish novel explores the brutal glory of armed conflict, and the bitter tragedy of those on both sides who offer their lives to defend the honour of their country.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Michael Hughes was born and raised in Keady, Northern Ireland, and now lives in London. He read English at Corpus Christi College, Oxford and trained in theatre at the Jacques Lecoq School in Paris. He studied creative writing at Royal Holloway, and at London Metropolitan University, where he also taught. His first novel, The Countenance Divine, was published by John Murray in 2016. Country is his second novel.

THE BRAIN

A User's Guide

New Scientist

Everything you ever needed to know about your brain . . . but didn't know to ask.

Congratulations! You're the proud owner of the most complex information processing device in the known universe: the human brain. The problem is you don't get an owner's manual. Well, until now.

Did you know that you actually have 22 senses rather than five; that memory is really time travel; and that hallucinations are completely normal? Featuring witty essays, quizzes, colourful infographics and all kinds of fascinating 'try this at home' experiments, New Scientist takes you on a journey through intelligence, creativity, the unconscious and beyond. From whether free will actually exists to lucid dreaming; from the strange ways to distort what we think of as 'reality' to the brain hacks that can improve memory, this book will help you understand your brain and show you how to use it to its full potential.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Since the first magazine was published in 1956, New Scientist has established a world-beating reputation for exploring and uncovering the latest developments and discoveries in science and technology, placing them in context and exploring what they mean for the future. Each week New Scientist reaches over four million highly engaged readers – over a million readers for the print magazine alone.

D-DAY

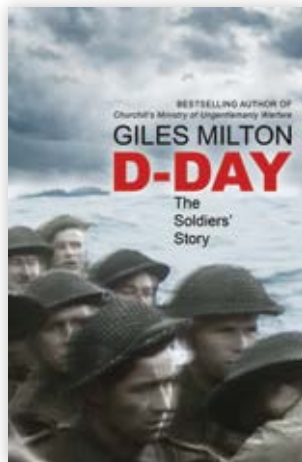

The Soldiers' Story

Giles Milton

Seventy-five years have passed since D-Day, the day of the greatest seaborne invasion in history.

The outcome of the Second World War hung in the balance on that chill June morning. If Allied forces succeeded in gaining a foothold in northern France, the road to victory would be open. But if the Allies could be driven back into the sea, the invasion would be stalled for years, perhaps forever.

In the lifetime since the operation, Giles Milton combines authentic voices of the day that have remained unheard: the ordinary Allied soldiers, the German defenders, the French civilians. D-Day: The Soldiers' Story lays bare the absolute terror of those on both sides trapped in the frontline massacres of Operation Overlord. In a vast canvas of human action, this book reveals 'the longest day' as never before – drawn in its entirety from the experiences of those who were there.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Giles Milton is an internationally best-selling author of narrative non-fiction. His most recent book is bestselling The Ministry of Ungentlemanly Warfare, his other books include Fascinating Footnotes from History, Nathaniel's Nutmeg and seven other critically acclaimed works of history. His debut thriller, The Perfect Corpse, was published in September, 2014. He lives in London with his wife, the illustrator Alexandra Milton, and three daughters.

UNTITLED

Jo Brand

A darkly funny guide to life from Britain's favourite comedian.

When Jo Brand hosted Have I Got News For You in November 2017, her calm explanation of the effects of sexism on women to a bemused all-male cast turned into a viral phenomenon.

Now she's written a witty and irreverent guide to life as a woman. Taking on everything from your family and how to survive it to what no one tells you about the female body; from how not to fall in love to how dealing with heckling is a life-skill. This book gathers together the things Jo's learnt about the world, the things she wishes she'd known and the things she hopes for the future into a hilarious and highly useful user's manual that everyone female (and male) needs to read immediately.

© Pal Hansen

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

One of the UK's best-known and best-loved comics, Jo Brand is renowned for her sharp wit, self-deprecation and feminist values. She is a regular guest on panel-shows ranging from QI to Have I Got News For You; presents Through the Cakehole; and is the star and writer of BAFTA award-winning series Getting On. Jo has also written several bestselling books including Can't Stand Up For Sitting Down, Look Back In Hunger and The More You Ignore Me (which has just been made into a movie starring Sheridan Smith).

THE WEAVERS

The Story of Human Ingenuity in Twelve Fabrics

Kassia St Clair

Human history unwrapped by the author of The Secret Lives of Colour.

From the mummies of Ancient Egypt; via the silken dragon robes of Imperial China and the woollen sails that helped Viking longboats reach America to the cottons that powered the Industrial Revolution (and sparked more than one war); arriving finally at the lab-blended fibres that have allowed astronauts to moonwalk – fabrics, manmade and natural, have changed and shaped the world we live in so many ways.

Across twelve fascinating chapters Kassia St Clair lays out a compelling alternative history of civilization and human creativity. Wittily written, compellingly argued and beautifully designed, this book will change the way you see the world.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Kassia St Clair studied the history of women's dress and the masquerade during the eighteenth-century at Bristol and Oxford. She has since written about design and culture for the Economist, House & Garden, Quartz and 1843. Her much acclaimed first book The Secret Lives of Colour was a Radio 4 Book of the Week. She lives in London.

MOSCOW MIDNIGHT

John Simpson

The revelatory thriller from the much-admired and million copy-selling journalist.

At a restaurant in Sloane Square, a politician confides to journalist Jon Swift that he is concerned for his own safety; a few months later he is found dead in his flat. But when the police and even Swift's paper refuse to investigate the death further, he must take matters into his own hands.

Soon Swift finds himself hunting down the killers on a global scale, and a suspicious death in London unravels into an international conspiracy that stretches all the way to the Kremlin.

On their trail, it's not long before Swift becomes a target himself . . .

DEAR MR MURRAY

Letters to a Gentleman Publisher

Selected & Edited by David McClay

To celebrate the 250th anniversary of John Murray, a sparkling anthology of letters from John Murray authors to their publisher.

The publishing house of John Murray was founded in Fleet Street in 1768 and remained a family firm over seven generations. Published to coincide with the anniversary year, Dear Mr Murray is a collection of some of the very best letters held in the John Murray Archive.

Intended to entertain and inspire, and spanning more than two hundred years, Dear Mr Murray is full of literary history and curiosities: from Charles Darwin's response to the negative reviews of On the Origin of Species to Jane Austen expressing concern about printing delays. Complemented by illustrations and reproductions of letters and envelopes, this is the perfect gift for book lovers everywhere.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

David McClay is former senior curator of the John Murray Archive at the National Library of Scotland (2006–16) and now works at the University of Edinburgh. He is a trustee of Abbotsford, the home of Sir Walter Scott, and has been involved in numerous national and international exhibitions on Byron and other Romantic-era themes, on which subjects he also speaks and lectures.

Editor lives in Edinburgh.

THIS BOOK WILL BLOW YOUR MIND

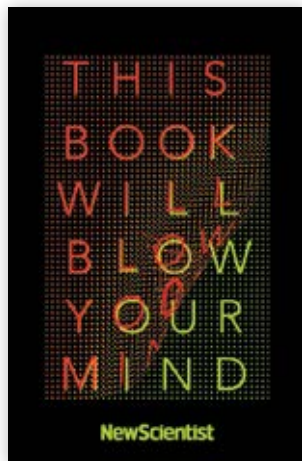

Journeys to the Extremes of Science

New Scientist

A new bestseller from New Scientist exploring everything from time travel to the holographic universe.

What's the nature of reality? Does the universe ever end? What is time and does it even exist? These are the biggest imagination-stretching, brain-staggering questions in the universe – and New Scientist has the fascinating answers.

From quantum weirdness to freaky cosmology (like white holes – which spew out matter instead of sucking it in), This Book Will Blow Your Mind takes you on an epic journey to the furthest reaches of science, to the boundaries of the known and the things you never thought possible. You don't need a spaceship to travel to the extremes of the universe. You just need this book.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Since the first magazine was published in 1956, New Scientist has established a world-beating reputation for exploring and uncovering the latest developments and discoveries in science and technology, placing them in context and exploring what they mean for the future. THE DROP

A Slough House Novella

Mick Herron

'The UK's new spy master' Sunday Times

Old spooks carry the memory of tradecraft in their bones, and when Solomon Dortmund sees an envelope being passed from one pair of hands to another in a Marylebone café, he knows he's witnessed more than an innocent encounter. But in relaying his suspicions to John Bachelor, who babysits retired spies like Solly, he sets in train events which will alter lives.

A drop, in spook parlance, is the passing on of secret information.

It's also what happens just before you hit the ground.

© Lee Gillies

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Mick Herron's first Jackson Lamb novel, Slow Horses, was picked as one of the best twenty spy novels of all time by the Daily Telegraph. The second, Dead Lions, won the CWA Goldsboro Gold Dagger and was picked as one of The Times' best fifty crime and thriller novels of the past fifty years. The third, Real Tigers, was shortlisted for the Theakston's Old Peculier Crime Novel of the Year, and both the CWA Goldsboro Gold Dagger and the CWA Ian Fleming Steel Dagger. The fourth, Spook Street, won the Steel Dagger.

The keenly awaited sequel to the internationally bestselling Born a Crime.

Born A Crime, Trevor Noah's brilliant memoir of his South African childhood was a phenomenon. Picked out as a must-read by everyone from Oprah to Bill Gates, it has been a huge bestseller all round the world and won several awards including the Thurber Prize for comic writing.

19 year-old Trevor leaves home and promptly manages to fall foul of the local mafia. His love life is a complete disaster; his jobs full of mistakes and missteps – he even ends up in prison – and the stories of his misadventures set against the backdrop of a country in turmoil make for riveting and hilarious reading. Like Born a Crime, this is far more than a compelling memoir – it is also the irreverent story of a South Africa's own coming of age.

ON THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Dan Snow

'History is an infinite reservoir of stories, examples, warnings, explanations, jokes, rebukes and inspiration . . . You can't understand the present if you can't understand the past' Dan Snow

In On This Day in History Dan Snow, Britain's favourite historian, tells the story of an important event that happened on each day of the year. From the signing of the Armistice treaty at 11a.m. on the 11th day of the 11th month in 1918 to Rosa Parks refusing to give up her bus seat on 1 December 1955, our past is full of all kinds of fascinating turning points.

Dan lives and breathes history and this book offers a refreshingly direct way into his vast knowledge. On This Day in History's 365 carefully picked entries add up into a short, vivid, personal history of the world. And by explaining the past, Dan Snow helps us better understand our present – and future. There is no such thing as a day on which nothing happened.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dan Snow is a historian, BAFTA-winning broadcaster and television presenter. His hugely popular History Hit podcast is downloaded a million times a month, has over 250,000 keen followers on Twitter and he has recently launched a history TV channel. He has presented shows such as Armada, Grand Canyon and Vikings. He has a regular slot on The One Show on BBC One. He has written several books including Battlefield Britain and The Battle of Waterloo.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Terry Stiastry

The gripping second novel from the author of the award-winning Acts of Omission.

Lawrence Leith has retreated to a French village to mourn the end of his marriage and the loss of his job. When his old friend Martin Elliot arrives, he stirs memories of a dusty road in the Congo where everything went disastrously wrong. Martin is convinced that Lawrence needs to get back in the game but when that involves returning to Africa, Lawrence isn't convinced. Until, that is, he meets the woman leading the trip . . .

LONDON RULES

Mick Herron

The fifth Jackson Lamb novel from the 'new king of the spy thriller' (Mail on Sunday).

London Rules might not be written down, but everyone knows rule one. Cover your arse. Regent's Park's First Desk, Claude Whelan, is learning this the hard way. Tasked with protecting a beleaguered prime minister, he's facing attack from all directions himself. Over at Slough House, the crew are struggling with personal problems but they're about to rediscover their greatest strength – that of making a bad situation much, much worse. It's a good job Jackson Lamb knows the rules. Because those things aren't going to break themselves.

FORGED IN CRISIS

The Power of Courageous Leadership in Turbulent Times

Nancy Koehn

From Harvard Business School historian, a portrait of five extraordinary figures in adversity and the skills they summon in order to prevail.

In five remarkable life journeys – polar explorer Ernest Shackleton; President Abraham Lincoln; legendary abolitionist Frederick Douglass; Nazi-resisting clergyman Dietrich Bonhoeffer; and environmental crusader Rachel Carson – Nancy Koehn explores why such stories speak to us so powerfully today. And what set of skills is required to lead in crisis? Through these portraits, Forged in Crisis shows how leaders are not born but made.

BRITAIN BY THE BOOK

A Curious Tour of Our Literary Landscape

Oliver Tearle

A fascinating literary tour of Britain.

Britain by the Book is an illuminating travelogue with a literary theme, taking in unusual writers' haunts and the surprising places that inspired some of our favourite fictional locations. We'll learn why Thomas Hardy was buried twice, how a librarian in Manchester invented the thesaurus as a means of coping with depression, and why Agatha Christie was investigated by MI5 during the Second World War. The map of Britain that emerges is one dotted with interesting literary stories and bookish curiosities.

GAME THEORY

A JM Original

Thomas Jones

A comedy about friendship, sex, parenting and the games people play.

Alex and Clare have gone to spend the weekend at Henry and Vic's house in the Kent countryside. 'Perhaps nothing would have happened if they hadn't played croquet on the Saturday afternoon,' Clare thinks later. 'Fucking croquet.'

The consequences unspool over the years that follow, across the many different kinds of game the characters play – together, alone or with other people – as their lives disentangle from and re-entwine with each other, until they find themselves almost back where they began. By then, they have passed through most of the hoops that life has staked out for them, if not always in the right order, or the right direction – a little older, not much wiser, and as unready as ever for the next round.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Thomas Jones is an editor at the London Review of Books. He lives in Orvieto with his wife and two children.

AN ARMFUL OF BABIES AND A CUP OF TEA

Memoirs of a 1950s Health Visitor

Molly Corbally

For fans of Call the Midwife: the warm-hearted memoir of a health visitor in the early years of the NHS.

After serving as a nurse in WWII, Molly Corbally joined the brand new NHS and became one of the first official District Health Visitors, attending to mothers and babies from all walks of life in the village she came to call home. Britain was very much worse for wear – TB, polio, measles and whooping cough were just some of the hazards babies faced – but it was also a time of great hope.

Warm, witty and moving, An Armful of Babies and a Cup of Tea is a vivid portrait of rural England in the post-war years, and a testament to what hasn't changed: the love between parents and their children.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Molly Corbally served as a nurse in World War II, and on returning to England became one of the first District Health Visitors in the newly-formed NHS. She worked in the rural Midlands between 1940s-70s. She died in 2012, but her self-published book was rediscovered in 2016 and publishes in 2018.

DANCING FOR JOY

A Short Guide to Kindness

Susan Calman

Everyone's Strictly favourite is back, and she's on a mission: to get us all dancing for joy.

Comedian and broadcaster Susan Calman has danced her way across our screens and into our hearts during Strictly Come Dancing 2017. Now, this one-woman army of joy is on a mission: to bring a little kindness back into the world during these difficult and confusing times. Susan wants to remind people that kindness is something wonderful and brilliant, something to be shared. She wants to bring back joy, kindness, and community, and defeat the hate and the fear.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Glasgow-born ex-lawyer Susan Calman is a stand-up comedian, actor, presenter and writer. A regular on The News Quiz, Susan has written four series for BBC Radio 4 and her last tour, The Calman Before The Storm, sold out nationally. She presents The Boss, Armchair Detectives and Top Class on BBC TV. An advocate for LGBT and mental health issues, Susan lives in Glasgow with her wife Lee, and her cats.

JOURNEYS TO THE OTHER SIDE OF THE WORLD

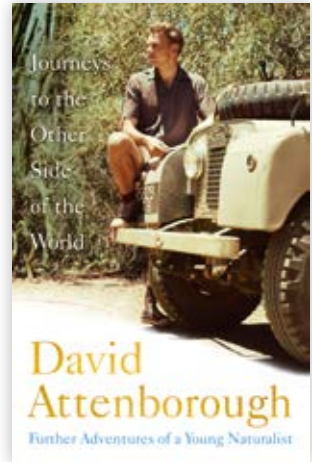

Further Adventures of a Young Naturalist

David Attenborough

The inimitable stories of a young David Attenborough, from Madagascar to Australia via the Pacific islands.

Following the success of the original Zoo Quest expeditions, in the late 1950s onwards a young David Attenborough embarked on new journeys in a very different part of the world.

From Madagascar and New Guinea to the Pacific Islands and the Northern Territory of Australia, he and his team were not just searching for rare animals, but were aiming to record the way of life of some of the tribes from these regions, whose traditions had never been seen by most of the British public before. The result is a charming, witty and humane adventure in some of the wildest places on the planet.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Sir David Attenborough is a broadcaster and naturalist whose television career is now in its seventh decade. After studying Natural Sciences at Cambridge and a brief stint in publishing, he joined the BBC. Since the launch of his famous Zoo Quest series in 1954 he has surveyed almost every aspect of life on earth and brought it to the viewing public.

THE ARAB OF THE FUTURE 3

A Childhood in the Middle East, 1985-1987

Riad Sattouf

The highly-anticipated third instalment of Riad Sattouf's internationally-acclaimed graphic memoir.

Having followed her husband from Libya to Syria, Riad's mother can't take any more of village life in Ter Maaleh: she wants to go back to France. Young Riad sees his father torn between his wife's aspirations and the weight of family traditions . . .

The third volume from The Arab of the Future series sees Riad, aged six, become increasingly questioning of the society he's growing up in.

Can you celebrate Christmas in Ter Maaleh? How do eight-year-olds fast for Ramadan? How far will Riad go to please his father? And how far will his father go to become an important man in the Syria of Hafez Al-Assad?

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Riad Sattouf is a bestselling cartoonist and filmmaker who grew up in Syria and Libya and now lives in Paris. The author of four comics series and a former contributor to Charlie Hebdo, Sattouf is now a weekly columnist for l'Obs. The Arab of the Future was awarded an Fauve d'Or Prize for Best Album of the Year at the Angoulême International Comics Festival, and has been translated into twenty languages.

CUNK ON EVERYTHING

The Philomena Cunk Encyclopedia

Philomena Cunk

A parody encyclopedia from the star of Charlie Brooker's Screenwipe and Cunk on Christmas.

In the olden days, people used to learn about things from encyclopedias. And that was really good, because you could read it, and learn it, then you could stop worrying about thinking. But now, with the internet and more people and science and research, there's just too much knowledge – more every year – and it's overwhelming. So intrepid reporter and visionary philosopher Philomena Cunk is bringing the encyclopedia back with this DEFINITIVE guide to everything you will ever need to know about.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Philomena Cunk is a journalist and thinker who has presented TV shows on everything from time and feminism to Shakespeare and Jesus. She asks the big questions other journalists are afraid to, like 'What is clocks?' and 'Why do we cry when it's the onions getting hurt?'

FRIEDA

A Novel of the Real Lady Chatterley

Annabel Abbs

A novel of the real Lady Chatterley.

From the author of The Joyce Girl comes the extraordinary story of Freida von Richthofen, a German aristocrat who left her husband for the penniless English writer, D H Lawrence. The story of the love affair which inspired Lawrence's Lady Chatterley's Lover, Abbs paints a captivating portrait of Frieda, who, desperate to experience life outside the stifling confines of her loveless marriage, finds herself torn between her duty as a mother and a wife, and her desire. But this is England in the 1900s, and there are rules to be obeyed; reputations to maintain; and Frieda discovers that freedom cannot be won without sacrifice.

© Aaron Hargreaves

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Author Annabel Abbs won the 2015 Impress Prize and 2015 Spotlight First Novel Award for her debut, The Joyce Girl. She has written for the Guardian, Irish Times, Elle, the Telegraph and the Huffington Post. She lives in London and Sussex with her four children and an old Labrador.

THE SEALWOMAN'S GIFT

Sally Magnusson

Sally Magnusson's highly acclaimed debut novel bringing an astonishing episode of Icelandic history to life.

1627: Barbary pirates raid the coast of Iceland. Among the 400 captives sold into slavery in Algiers are the island pastor, his wife and their three children. In this brilliant reimagining, Sally Magnusson gives a voice to Ásta, the pastor's wife. Enslaved in an alien culture, Ásta meets the loss of her freedom and her children with the one thing she has brought from home: the stories in her head, from Icelandic folklore to Arabian nights.

THE PRODIGAL PROPHET

Jonah and the Mystery of God's Mercy

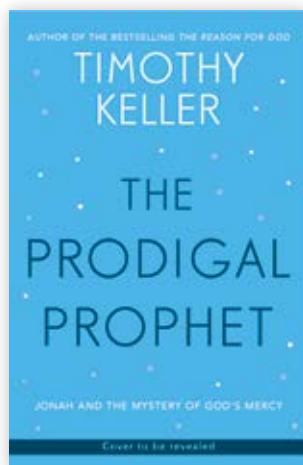

Timothy Keller

New York Times-bestselling author Timothy Keller on how Christians can live well within pluralistic cultures.

In cities around the world people of many races, national backgrounds and faiths live side by side. A generation ago, the hope was that this diverse society could be one of harmony and mutual respect, but instead we see growing divisions.

How do we move forward? Can Christians engage their neighbours in such a way that they become a part of the solution rather than part of the problem?

Bestselling author Tim Keller believes that when we grasp the message of the book of Jonah – God's concern for cities and opposition to nationalism – we can become peacemakers and agents of reconciliation in the world.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Timothy Keller moved to Manhattan in 1989 to found Redeemer Presbyterian Church, which has now grown to three distinct congregations and birthed the church-planting Redeemer City to City programme. Keller is the author of numerous bestselling books, including The Reason for God, The Prodigal God and most recently Hidden Christmas, and the co-author, with his wife Kathy, of The Meaning of Marriage as well as two devotionals: My Rock; My Refuge and The Way of Wisdom.

INTERRUPTING SILENCE

God's Command to Speak Out

Walter Brueggemann

A challenging book on the Christian imperative to speak out against injustice.

Walter Brueggemann is one of the world's most influential Old Testament scholars. In Interrupting Silence he illustrates that the Bible is filled with stories where marginalised people break repressive silence and speak against it. Examining how maintaining silence allows the powerful to keep control, Brueggemann motivates readers to consider situations in their lives where they need to either interrupt silence or be part of the problem, convincing us that God is active and wanting us to act for justice.

A GOSPEL OF HOPE

Walter Brueggemann

A selection of his most inspiring writing from one of the world's leading Old Testament scholars.

Walter Brueggemann is beloved and respected by scholars, preachers and laity alike for his penetrating insights on Scripture and prophetic diagnoses of our culture. Both are woven throughout this new collection of his writings, A Gospel of Hope, which encourages readers to abandon what is safe and routine and instead embrace the audacity required to live out one's faith. This must-have volume gathers Brueggemann's wisdom on topics ranging from anxiety and abundance to partisanship and the role of faith in public life.

THE GIRL DE-CONSTRUCTION PROJECT

Exploring the Wildness and Wonder of Being a Woman

Rachel Gardner

Taking a sledgehammer to the two-dimensional ideas around being young and female.

If Jesus is good news for women in every culture and every time, what does that good news look like for women today?

This book is an attempt to speak to and about women with kindness, truth and sass. It's for Christian women of all ages, confident or questioning gender norms, who want to experience their femininity as a powerful identity that they can define and re-define as they grow as disciples.

Part sledgehammer, part manifesto, The Girl De-Construction Project is full of personal stories, biblical insights and wisdom for living a life of freedom.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Rachel Gardner is the Relationship Lead at Youthscape – a national youthwork organisation – responsible for pioneering new ways to engage young people in healthy relationships. A bestselling author of a number of books for young people, Rachel speaks widely on youth and faith-related topics. Outside of her role at Youthscape, Rachel is the President of the Girl's Brigade England and Wales.

FAITHEISM

Krish Kandiah

What if everything you think you know about fAiTHEISM is wrong?

Over the past decade the Religion vs. Atheism debate has generated a lot more heat than light, with passionate advocates for both sides snarled up in antagonistic claim and counter-claim. Where does the truth lie?

In fAiTHEISM Krish Kandiah asks us to take a long hard look at ourselves – and a more understanding look at each other. When we step away from the arguments for a moment and consider the real people on each side of this debate, he argues, we will discover that we share more than we realise.

The desire to know the truth is in itself a uniting factor, even if we have reached different conclusions, and in testing our own assumptions, Krish contends, we can both grow in our own beliefs and understand each other better. Time and again the evidence shows that the truth on the ground is not what one might expect – and the potential for genuine understanding is far greater than the antagonists on either side would have you believe.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Krish Kandiah is Founder and Director of the adoption and fostering charity Home for Good and an Ambassador for the relief charity Tearfund. He is in demand as a speaker, consultant and social entrepreneur. He lives with his wife and seven children, including fostered and adopted children, in Oxfordshire, UK.

THE CULTURE OF GOD

A Middle Eastern Biography of Jesus

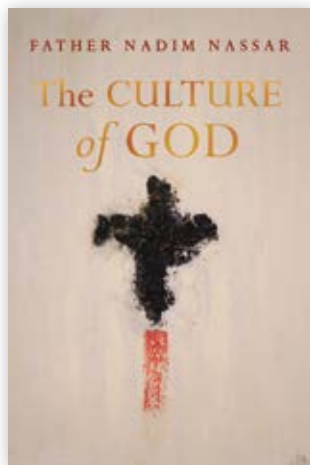

Father Nadim Nassar

How understanding Jesus in his Middle-Eastern context transforms our understanding of God.

Father Nadim Nassar is the Church of England's only Syrian priest, and an outspoken advocate for western Christians to recognise their Middle-Eastern heritage.

In The Culture of God, his first book, Father Nadim argues that there are three cultures Christians need to understand when they read the Bible: the culture of the Bible itself, their own culture, and finally 'the culture of God'.

This fresh and provocative book, passionately argued, is an unfolding of what Father Nadim sees as the culture of God and how, when we understand it, it transforms our understanding of our faith.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Father Nadim Nassar was born and raised in Lattakia, Syria, to a Christian family, and studied in Beirut during the Lebanese civil war before moving to the UK, where he was ordained and became senior chaplain to the universities and colleges in London. He is director of the Awareness Foundation, which he founded with the Bishop of London. The Culture of God is his first book.

30 DAYS

A Practical Introduction to Reading the Bible

Nicky Gumbel

One month's worth of daily readings and commentary for new Bible readers.

The Bible has been described both as a manual for life and a love letter from God himself. But knowing where to start with the Scriptures can be daunting.

In 30 Days, Reverend Nicky Gumbel shares thirty fascinating passages from both the Old and New Testaments, offering a daily commentary on each. Perfect for those new to or exploring faith, the book answers the questions: How should I read the Bible?, Where do I start?, and How is the Bible relevant to my life?

30 Days is the ideal precursor to Nicky Gumbel's commentary on the Bible in One Year.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Nicky Gumbel is the pioneer of Alpha. Alpha is an international organisation that runs the Alpha Course which is a series of sessions exploring the Christian faith. Nicky read law at Cambridge and theology at Oxford, practised as a barrister and is now vicar of HTB in London.

Author lives in London.

SHIPS OF MERCY

The Remarkable Fleet Bringing Hope to the World's Poorest People
Don Stephens with Lynda Rutledge Stephenson & Nancy Predaina

The improbable but thrilling story of how a Colorado farm boy built a navy, and how a boat load of volunteers are literally changing the face of the world . . . one face at a time.

Ships of Mercy tells the riveting true story of Mercy Ships, the astonishing fleet of hospital ships that sail the globe, bringing dramatic change to the lives of hundreds of thousands of people in the most impoverished corners of the world. Ships of Mercy is an inspiring testimony both to the essence of the human spirit and God's amazing providence.

EVERY JOB A PARABLE

What Farmers, Nurses and Astronauts Tell Us About God

John Van Sloten

A fascinating reflection on vocation, and how we can meet God at work.

Good news: all work matters to God, because all work reflects some aspect of the character of God. God created the world so that it runs best when it mirrors him, and we ourselves find the most fulfilment when we recognise God behind our labour. In this beautiful book John Van Sloten offers a fascinating and innovative reflection on vocation: our work is a parable of God, and as we work, we are icons of grace.

LIVING A LIFE YOU LOVE

Embracing the Adventure of Being Led by the Holy Spirit

Joyce Meyer

How to love every part of your life in spite of life's obstacles and challenges.

It's common to be more frustrated with life than at peace with it, because the daily grind wears you down. Responsibilities and burdens become heavy and rob you of the happiness you're meant to have as a child of God. But you can be hopeful, learn to rise above your challenges, and be filled with wonder at what God might do every day. This book is the key to shifting your perspective so that you may also relish every moment and every part of life.

YOU ARE THE BELOVED

Daily Meditations for Spiritual Living

Henri J M Nouwen

With seven million copies of his books in print, Henri Nouwen's spiritual classics offer deep spiritual insight. This devotional delves into human experience, intimacy, brokenness and mercy.

Henri Nouwen, priest, professor and writer, devoted much of his later ministry to emphasising the singular concept of our identity as the Beloved of God. You Are the Beloved is a daily devotional created from the very best of Nouwen's writings, paired with daily Scripture readings, that reveals our identity as children of God, and which encourages us to live out that truth in our daily lives.

NIV BIBLES FOR JOURNALLING AND VERSE-MAPPING

NIV

Journal, colour-in, study and reflect, one verse at a time.

In these two beautiful editions, the NIV is printed in easy-to-read 9PT British text on thicker paper, with extra-wide margins, giving you lots of space for notes, reflections, illustrations or Bible studies.

Interspersed are 32 pages introducing the art of verse-mapping. This Bible study method encourages you to prayerfully choose a verse, compare it with other translations, study the context, and then reflect and allow the Spirit to guide you in application. There are also verses to colour in, with lots of space around them for you to add your own illustrations, and many other pages with creative prompts for Bible journaling.

NIV RUBY JOURNALLING BIBLE

NIV

Celebrate the wisdom of the Scriptures with this special ruby anniversary NIV.

'For wisdom is more precious than rubies, and nothing you desire can compare with her' (Prov 8:11).

Wisdom is treasure. Better than treasure, as Proverbs suggests, for it can be found by reading and meditating on the Word of God. The New International Version is celebrating its fortieth anniversary, and this ruby-themed Journaling Bible is one of a trio of special editions published to mark the occasion.

With high-quality, thick Bible paper and extra-wide blank margins for note-taking and referencing, this Bible allows you the space to respond creatively to the wisdom you find within.

THE LIFE OF A SONG, VOLUME 2

The Fascinating Back Stories Behind 50 of the World's Best-Loved Songs

David Cheal & Jan Dalley

The stories behind the songs – from the FT Weekend's weekly Life of a Song column.

Did you know that Patti LaBelle didn't know what 'Voulez-vous coucher avec moi ce soir?' actually meant? Or that Paul McCartney originally referred to 'Yesterday' as 'Scrambled Eggs' because he couldn't think of any lyrics? The Life of a Song, Volume 2 is a compilation of weekly columns written for FT Weekend, containing the biographies of 50 songs that have been born, reborn, sometimes hideously mangled, but often reinvented by new generations of artists. Here you will find songs that shook the world, songs that heralded the birth of a new musical movement, and songs that made the journey from soul to punk and from heavy rock to hip-hop.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

David Cheal is The Financial Times' pop music writer and Jan Dalley has been The Financial Times' Art Editor since November 2004.

SWISS WATCHING

Inside the Land of Milk and Money (3rd Edition)

Diccon Bewes

New edition of the internationally bestselling classic that dispels the myths and unravels the true meaning of Swissness.

Swiss Watching is a fascinating journey around Switzerland that goes beyond the clichés of banks, skis, francs and cheese. From seeking Heidi and finding the best chocolate to reliving a bloody past and exploring an uncertain future, Swiss Watching takes an entertaining look at Europe's most individual and misunderstood country.

Swiss expert Diccon Bewes has updated his international bestseller with new sections on the Swiss elections, the Swiss citizenship test and how Brexit has affected Switzerland.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

After ten years at Lonely Planet and Holiday Which? magazine, Diccon Bewes decamped to Switzerland, where until recently he was manager of the Stauffacher English Bookshop in Bern. As well as grappling with German grammar, re-learning to cross the road properly, and overcoming his innate desire to form an orderly queue, he has spent the last few years exploring the every corner of Switzerland and eating lots of chocolate.

THE RHINE

Following Europe's Greatest River from Amsterdam to the Alps

Ben Coates

Ben Coates cycles the Rhine from mouth to source, telling the story of how it shaped a continent.

The Rhine is one of the world's greatest rivers. It flows 800 miles from the mountain fortresses of Switzerland and Liechtenstein, through the industrial and political powerhouses of Germany and France, to the social democratic playground of the Netherlands.

In The Rhine, Ben Coates, bestselling author of Why the Dutch are Different, sets out from Amsterdam to cycle the river's course through six countries to its source in the icy Alps. Blending travelogue and offbeat history, he explores the impact that the Rhine has had on European culture and finds out how influences have flowed along the river, shaping the people who live alongside it.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Ben Coates is the author of Why the Dutch are Different and has worked at various times as a political adviser in London, speechwriter, lobbyist and aid worker in Africa. He now works for an international charity and lives in the Dutch countryside.

THE EXPERTISE ECONOMY

How the Smartest Companies Use Learning to Engage, Compete and Succeed

Kelly Palmer, David Blake

Shows companies how to transform their employees into experts and ultimately their biggest competitive advantage.

Kelly Palmer and David Blake, of education technology pioneer Degreed, provide the latest scientific research on how people really learn, and concrete examples of successful workplace learning from top companies like Airbnb, LinkedIn, Tesla and Facebook. They show how to apply the practices of leading education companies and startups who are driving the conversation about how to create experts. Finally, they distil seven Guiding Principles for building a culture where learning is something that people want – and love – to do. Interviews with Thinkers50 list-makers Clayton Christensen, Daniel Pink and Andrew Scott in addition to top experts in modern learning and education.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Kelly Palmer, Chief Learning Officer of Degreed, is an expert on the future of learning and career development. She speaks regularly at industry conferences around the world and has been featured in Forbes and Chief Learning Officer (CLO), where she writes a column on the employee experience. David Blake is cofounder and CEO of Degreed. He has been published in the Harvard Technology Review, Business Insider and Huffington Post. He speaks around the world on the future of learning, including at EdTech Europe and TEDx.

AMBITION REDEFINED

Why the Corner Office Doesn't Work for Every Woman & What to Do Instead

Kathryn Sollmann

Deciding that the CEO job isn't for her doesn't make a woman a failure.

Eye-opening and practical, Ambition Redefined is an alternative to the common narrative about women's success urging all women to strive for executive careers. This NOT a path all women want or should be pressured to pursue. Kathryn Sollmann, a leader in helping women navigate work-life balance and financial independence, shows how pursuing your own brand of success can include finding and negotiating flexible work. Readers will find actionable advice about the best way to stay skilled in a competitive workforce, become financially secure and find jobs that will complement their real lives.

holding cover

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Kathryn Sollmann is a leader in helping women navigate the many stages of work and life. She has established the link between work and a woman's ability to achieve long-term financial security and independence, which has generated event-sponsorship funding from wealth-management giants including Cigna and Wells Fargo. With good humour, no-nonsense delivery and the ability to educate and motivate, Kathryn's expertise has been called upon by The Today Show, the Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, & more.

HOW TO HAVE GOOD IDEAS

A System for Smart, Extraordinary Thinking

Dave Birss

© Valérie Pierre-Louis

A tangible approach to building the intangible skill of creativity.

The highly practical lessons in How To Have Good Ideas are based on neuroscience, psychology and behavioural economics. Written by the former Creative Director of OgilvyOne, this book offers a new and simple theory of how to have original and valuable ideas. It looks at how to frame the problem, how to push your thinking, how to sell the idea and build support for it and how to inspire others to have great ideas. It proves that any organisation – and any department within an organisation – can become a fertile environment for good ideas.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dave Birss spent 20 years as an advertising creative, coming up with ideas for many of the world's biggest brands. Along the way, he led the creative departments of a number of the UK's top agencies, including Poke, OgilvyOne and McCann Worldgroup. Since then he's taught at universities and organisations all over the world and has set up Right Thinking, a system for generating effective ideas.
